

Biography

Bob Lovett

Senior Vice President, Business
Development and Marketing

Agile, Innovative, Enduring Solutions

Bob Lovett has extensive operational experience and expertise in DoD acquisition and contracting practices with current, hands-on experience assisting clients with product and technology insertion and defense sector rapid transition capability. Prior to retiring from the Army as a certified Army Acquisition Corps Colonel, Bob served as the Project Manager, Rapid Equipping Force (REF) for over three years overseeing the development and rapid insertion of over 500 different technologies providing real-time response to tactical warfighter requirements. He was also responsible for ensuring proper execution of over $600M in funds provided to the REF over the three year period and approximately $8B in funds provided to the JIEDDO in FY05 and FY06. Bob's prior experience includes Director, Joint Programs,

Sustainment and Development Project Office, Ft. Belvoir, VA, Product Manager for the M1A2 Abrams Tank in Warren, MI, and Deputy Director for ASA (ALT) Operations in Southwest Asia. During the build-up for the invasion of Iraq, Bob was attached to the 3rd Infantry Division and stayed with them throughout the entire Iraqi Campaign until May 2003 when he returned stateside to attend the U.S. Army War College in Carlisle Barracks, PA. Additional accomplishments included working as Army Staff within the Office of the Director of Information Systems, Command Control, Communications, and Computers, and the Defense Special Weapons Agency in Alexandria, VA as the Deputy Program Manager for the Nuclear Management Information System and the Nuclear Weapons Tracking and Accountability System.